Water Treatment / Septic System Disclaimer

To Whom It May Concern:

H2O Well Service Inc. hereby disclaims any and all liability related to the discharge of treated or softened water containing salt, brine, or elevated mineral concentrations into any septic system, drain field, or leach field.

The customer acknowledges that both the composition and volume of treated discharge water including high-salt backwash or regeneration cycles from water softeners can negatively affect septic system performance and longevity. Excess discharge volume and salt content may cause leach field saturation, clogging, corrosion, or complete system failure over time.

By permitting or maintaining any setup where treated or softened water enters a septic system, the customer agrees to assume full and exclusive responsibility for all related maintenance, repair, replacement, or remediation costs.

H2O Well Service Inc. shall be absolved of all liability, claims, or expenses arising from septic system or leach field damage resulting from the volume or chemical content of softened or treated water.

Customer acknowledges and accepts these terms in full.
